To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Volodymyr Kravchuk, who worked with Velox Imaging as a Marketing Project Manager on a short-term three-month healthcare technology project in 2026.

Volodymyr was brought in for a defined project and made a strong contribution during his time with us. His work included customer case studies, website and digital content, printing media communication, presentations, proposals, RFP-related materials, market research and sales support.

He was particularly effective at translating complex healthcare and technical information into clear, client-focused communications. He worked well with leadership, sales and technical teams, demonstrated strong initiative, and was able to manage multiple priorities independently.

Although his engagement was intentionally short-term and project-based, Volodymyr made a meaningful contribution to Velox Imaging. I would confidently recommend him for senior marketing, communications or project-focused roles.

Please feel free to contact me if any additional information is required.

Sincerely,

Alec Melnikov
